Borah Prefaces Speech
His Tour by Reading
Fascist New Deal Knocks

WASHINGTON — The shaggy-haired Senator from Idaho, William Edgar Borah, makes it a habit to practice his speeches aloud before delivery. For hours he paces the floor droning to himself.

The other day a visitor opened the door of Borah's office, found him in the not unusual preoccupation of rehearsing a speech. But before Borah on the desk was a copy of "The American Mercury" from which the Senator had been reading.

Nothing his visitor's curious gaze, Borah quickly turned the magazine upside down, but not before the visitor noted the article.

It was "The Planless Roosevelt Revolution," by Lawrence Dennis, propagandist for American fascism. In the article are such statements as:

"Roosevelt has shown himself a master showman, but not a master builder. Borrowing, currency devaluation and the dolo do not constitute a social system. A social revolution cannot be conducted by a genial personality. While Mr. Roosevelt beams and caresses, he goes on undoing the American system. There is a certain piquancy to the idea of a revolution being conducted by people who don't know what they are doing, but the result is likely to be a mess."

NOTE—As soon as Congress is over, Borah plans a nation-wide speaking tour to tell the people what he thinks of the New Deal.

Slipping

Sartorially, Senator James Hamilton Lewis may still be the sparkling star of old. But from the point of fact he is slipping.

At Chevy Chase Club, the Davis Cup Matches were under way. In a mustard-colored cutaway coat suit, the famous Illinois Senator circled through the crowd, bowing low to everyone. Finally, he spied a prominent Washington manufacturer with a lovely young lady on his arm.

Jim Ham effused. Quoth he: "My good fellow, it has been years since I've seen you. How you young people do grow up! It's almost unbelievable that you're married."

"I've been married a long, long time," replied the gentleman. With great flourish, the Illinoisan continued. "With a wife so very young, you couldn't have been married so very long ago."

"This isn't my wife, Senator. It's my daughter."

Luke Warm

The men who really run Russia are disappointed in the work of Billy "Bald-headed" Bullitt, first American Ambassador ever to be sent to a Soviet Government.

Bullitt is intelligent, sympathetic, works hard and on the whole gets along with the Russians. But he is not the big time stuff they had hoped for. He cannot influence American opinion. He cannot help them improve business relations with the United States. And he does not—in their opinion—carry much weight with the Administration back home.

The Kremlin would have preferred a big, booming-voiced, blatant, but really important American business man.

RAINFALL AIDS PARCHED CROP; PREDICT MORE

Only .15 Inches Falls Monday and Tuesday But It Brings Relief

WORTH THOUSANDS

Corn Planting at Climax in Pickaway-co

Rainfall measuring only .15 inches, but worth thousands of dollars to farmers, brought slight relief to Pickaway-cos drought-stricken crops Monday and early Tuesday.

There was more rain in some sections of the county than in others but all communities reported enough rain to "do some good."

Weather reports today indicated continued showers and cooler weather for Wednesday.

Sprouting corn was greatly aided while farmers working soggy ground into seedbeds were also benefited. Wheat and pasture lands are naturally aided by the rainfall.

The rain this week added to more than a half inch last Thursday gives the county more rain than a number of other southern Ohio counties.

Much more rain is needed, according to County Agent Guy Dowdy, if a normal wheat crop is to be gained this fall. Pasture, too, is far shorter than in many years for the spring season.

Most of the county's corn planting is expected to be completed within the next week or 10 days.

NINE STORES ON PROBATION

Communities Given Opportunity "To Retain Them" With 60-Day Trial

COLUMBUS, May 15.—Nine of the 109 Ohio liquor department stores today were operating on "probation" following their failure to maintain their quotas of sales.

The stores which were placed under probation were those located at Mt. Gilead, London, New Lexington, Wapakoneta, Ottawa, Paulding, Waverly, Logan and Napoleon. Their period of "probation" will extend for 60 days "to give the communities in which the stores are situated an opportunity to retain them," according to Col. John A. Hughes, state liquor director.

Hughes said that in an effort to aid the stores they would be permitted to sell at wholesale as well as retail. Average daily sales of $200 are necessary for each state liquor store to keep "out of the red."

Announcement of the plan to place the nine liquor stores on "probation" was made simultaneously with the declaration of Matt Hinkel, technical adviser to the state liquor department, that "it appears that we are not going to sell half as much liquor as I had estimated." Hinkel made his statement.

KIWANIANS ACT ON SHADEVILLE 'TRAP'

An effort to break up the "trap" which has prevailed at Shadsville in recent months was promised Monday evening when the Kiwanis club discussed activities of constables working out of the court of Justice of the Peace Clark Miller.

It was planned to send complaints to the Franklin-co prosecutor's office and members of the club urged that all who have been "trapped" and "soaked" for minor traffic violations by Squire Miller should notify Tom A. Renick, secretary of the Kiwanis club, who will voice the club's complaint to Franklin-co authorities.

JURY GRANTS $1,560 SUM

Mrs. Boor Is Victor in Action For Money Against Francis Hoover.

A jury in common pleas court voted a unanimous verdict for the plaintiff, Tuesday, in the suit of Mrs. Alma H. Boor, Ashville, against Francis W. "Cappy" Hoover, a patient in the Athens state hospital. The jurors allowed Mrs. Boor $1,560 as asked in her petition.

The money was determined a fair amount for providing for Mr. Hoover.

In an answer denying the claim of Mrs. Boor, Mr. Hoover, her uncle, declared he had given her over $1,700 for which he still held a note, but on the witness stand he confessed he had given her the sum as a gift and not a loan.

Harry Margulis was Mrs. Boor's attorney while William D. Radcliff acted as Hoover's guardian ad litem.

Judge J. W. Adkins heard the case with W. M. Reid, E. Unionist, as the jury's foreman.

The next action in common pleas court is May 23 when the re-trial of the suit of Ruth W. Marshall appealing from a decision of the industrial commission is scheduled. A previous trial here resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

Mrs. Marshall seeks compensation for her husband's death on the Scioto Trail, north of South Bloomfield.

"ROBBERS FINED" FOR INTOXICATION

Men Walk Into Gem Restaurant and Demand $70; Caught By Police.

Believed by some to have attempted robbery of Noah Myers in his E. Main-st. restaurant, Monday evening, M. C. Geddis, of Sunday, and B. B. Triplett, of Maringo, Franklin-co, were each fined $10 and costs of $8.70 by Mayor W. B. Cady, Tuesday, for intoxication and disorderly conduct.

The men walked into Myers' restaurant at 9:30 p. m. Monday and, holding their hands in their pockets as though they carried revolvers, they demanded $70 of the proprietor. Myers called police and the pair fled.

Geddis was arrested in another E. Main-st. restaurant a half hour later by Officers Shasteen and Radcliff. Triplett was found in a restaurant at Washington and Franklin-sts at 11 o'clock by Officer Fitzpatrick.

Both spent the night in the city jail and were given hearings before Mayor Cady Tuesday when they denied trying to rob Myers. The restaurant man declined to file charges against them.

One of the men paid $9 of the fine, the other paid nothing but Mayor Cady held all their luggage as bond until the fines and costs are paid. The men said they were going to Gallipoli to work on an Ohio river lock.

OCEAN FLYERS UNHEARD FROM ON ROME 'HOP'

No Anxiety Felt Since Big Plane Has Fuel for Longer Flight

ITALIANS PREPARE

Due to Hit Irish Coast Before Noon Today

By International News Service
More than 26 hours after they took off from Floyd Bennett field, New York, on a non-stop flight to Rome, no definite word had been heard today concerning the progress of George R. Pond and Cesare Sabelli.

Although due near the coast of Ireland about 10 a. m. E. D. T. they had not been sighted at that hour.

No steamships along the route had reported sighting their Bellanca plane.

Despite the absence of any word, no particular anxiety was felt since the plane had sufficient fuel to keep it aloft until 3:30 a. m. E. D. T. tomorrow and weather reports indicated reasonably favorable flying conditions.

WEATHER CLOUDY

In the eastern Atlantic, from mid-ocean to the Irish coast, westerly winds and scattered clouds were reported. It was partly cloudy, also, over southern Ireland, England and France.

FDR REQUESTS RELIEF MONEY

Sum Would Run County Until January; 10 Million For Crime War.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to appropriate $1,322,000,000 for "Neal Deal" emergency and relief running expenses through next January.

At the same time, the president asked broad powers to use much of the money as he sees fit. As he put it, no one can tell what emergencies may arise, and he wants to be able to meet them as they come.

Ten million dollars of the money asked today will go to make war on the bootlegger. The president is determined to exterminate this vicious parasite. He plans a determined drive of eradication in coming months.

The sum asked of Congress today rounded out the total for emergency and relief which the president fixed as this year's limit in his budget message to Congress Jan. 3—$3,166,000,000. He believes the $1,322,000,000 will carry the New Deal through until Congress reconvenes next January.

BANK ROBBERS GET 20 YEARS

Youths Captured After Investigation Here Plead Guilty In Fayette-Co.

Leland McDaniel, 21, and Howard Douglass, 23, of Columbus, were sentenced to 20 years each in the Ohio penitentiary when they pleaded guilty to robbing the Good Hope bank. Their hearings were conducted before Judge H. M. Rankin, who heard lengthy plans for leniency. A number of character witnesses were also paraded before the court.

McDaniel and Douglass were arrested in Columbus as a result of clues obtained in Ashville by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and his force.

Both youths dressed neatly, took the witness stand to tell their stories of the robbery before sentence was passed. Both related their early history and told the court that they had never been arrested before.

They admitted they had planned the Good Hope robbery several weeks before they had perpetrated it. They were both under the influence of liquor when they did the "job," they told Judge Rankin.

McDaniel and Douglass escaped after the Fayette-co holdup by driving through New Holland and Williamsport, turning off Route 22 on Route 104 then cutting from that highway to South Bloomfield and into Ashville where they left clues which led to their arrest.

More than $500 of the $567 loot taken from the bank was recovered.

The Fayette-co courtroom was crowded with friends and relatives of both youths.

Letter Mailed in Chicago Leads to Robles Girl's Recovery

SUFFERED IN DESERT

Search for Cruel Abductors Spreads East

TUCSON, Ariz., May 15.—Rescued from the most terrible fate that can befall mankind—burial alive in a sun-baked desert—little June Robles slept today in her own bed for the first time in 19 days, her dolls about her, and watched over by loving parents and relatives.

Home again without the payment of the $15,000 ransom to the kidnapers who hid her in the most fiendish hiding place for a victim ever devised, hope was held that the remarkable recuperative powers of a healthy child would save the six-year-old victim from permanent harm.

SEARCH SPREADS

And while the child slept fully, officers and World War veterans launched a great manhunt for her kidnapers which extended from the cactus wilds of the southern Arizona desert to Chicago and other eastern cities.

June, kidnapped April 25, as she was enroute home from school, was found last night by County Attorney Clarence Houston chained in a corrugated iron coffin sunk into the baked caliche soil, and at the base of a towering giant Sahuaro cactus nine miles east of here, her leg chained to a four foot iron stake which had been drilled along side the box.

The living grave was two feet deep, eight feet long and two feet wide. Over the top was a tin cover with holes punched to let in air. The box was a virtual stench-hole.

"If you people could have gotten a whiff of that stench in the grave you would feel that the fires of Hell are far too good for those kidnapers," said Houston.

Only two or three times, and then at night, during those long, silent 19 days did the kidnapers of June Robles come to her and give her food. For at least the last five days she had been left alone.

Sometimes the temperature rose to 120 on the desert.

SCARED BY RATTLE

"I slept in the daytime because the tin on top of the roof rattled so much at night it scared me," said June.

Directions for finding the child came in a letter received from Chicago by Gov. B. B. Moore.

"We believe I lost one of the kidnapers became frightened a few days ago and fled to the middle-west," Chief of Police Gus Wollard said.

"Since the handwriting in the letter was the same as in the notes received from the abductors earlier, we felt confident that the 'brains' of the gang is hiding out in some large city, perhaps in Chicago."

Rumors were current that a suspect was being held, but officials refused to confirm them.

Crowds gathered on the streets all night long, waiting word from the two sheriff's posses which left to comb the mesquite ranges east of the city, and renewed the talk of "lynching parties." Threats were heard of following the custom of Tombstone, Ariz., in the '80s in letting kidnapers "stretch hemp from some good oak tree."

Possible Hanging Faces Three Men Who Confess Holding Gettle

RICH MAN FATIGUED

Vague Clues Lead to Capture of Yeggs

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—With William F. Gettle, millionaire financier safely back in his home and the $60,000 ransom demanded for his release reposing unpaid in a city vault, the state moved today to exact the death penalty from his kidnapers.

A sudden raid on a suburban house at La Crescenta brought liberty to the wealthy former chain store executive, and a smashing roundup brought into custody the alleged gang of bootleggers and hi-jackers responsible for his kidnapping.

Within three hours after their arrest while Gettle was holding a joyful reunion with his wife and four children, officials announced confessions had been obtained from three asserted ringleaders of the gang.

They were Jimmie Kirk, Larry Kerrigan and Roy Williams.

ALL THREE CONFESS

Kirk and Williams, according to the former's confession made the "snatch," police said, and Kerrigan was the guard over the victim at the La Crescenta house.

Two women were also held, Loretta Wood and Joan Burk, as asserted associates of the men.

Throughout the night police sought other known associates of the men under arrest, determined to allow no one who had any knowledge of his kidnapping to escape.

Questioning of the three asserted ring leaders also progressed continuously throughout the night.

Police centered their questioning on determining what acts of violence were committed against the abducted millionaire for kidnapping accompanied with any act of violence is punishable with death under California's "Lindbergh law."

"We will ask the death penalty," Deputy District Attorney Percy Hammond who will file complaints against Kirk, Williams and Kerrigan announced at the conclusion of the preliminary interrogation.

"They will be charged with kidnapping in which the victim was injured."

DOUBTS INJURY

However District Attorney Buron Fitts pointed out that in order to secure the death penalty it would be necessary to prove that physical harm had been done to Gettle, and that although he had not made a thorough study of the case he doubted if this could be done.

However, Fitts asserted that kidnapping for robbery carries the death penalty in California.

Detective work of almost fictional character brought about the release of Gettle who had been "snatched last Wednesday midnight from his palatial country home at Arcadia at the conclusion of a gay party which had dedicated a new swimming pool.

A glimpsed automobile license, a card bearing a real estate dealer's name in La Crescenta and a chance remark overheard weeks ago were the slender clues that sent officers on a manhunt which released the bound and blindfolded captive and brought the three men and two women into custody.

Rescued Child's Story

(EDITORS' NOTE—In simple, childish words, June Robles, six-year-old kidnap victim rescued unharmed from a "coffin" in the desert, told the story of her 15 days of imprisonment.)

By JUNE ROBLES
(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz., May 15.—I was with Barney (Barney Kengla, her six-year-old cousin) and we were walking along the street when a tall, dark man came up to me and said:

"Your father is out fixing radios and wants to see you—come with me."

So I got into the car and he drove me for a pretty long way—I don't know how far but I guess it was nearly a hundred blocks, and it was getting dark, and we had driven along the sand for quite a ways.

Then the automobile stopped and he said:

"Get out, we aren't going to hurt you."

And then another man came up.

I couldn't see him, but he said something to the man who brought me away from home.

I don't remember what happened next, only I was in a big box and it was awfully hot.

I couldn't see very well, even in the day time, but I found something to eat.

I ate some figs, dates, graham crackers, oranges, and bread, and then there was some water, too but it didn't taste good. It didn't taste like water, but like soap.

I didn't cry any—that is not much.

I knew my Grandpa Robles had told me that I wasn't to be a cry-baby, and I tried my best, but it was so awful dark, and in the daytime the box was so hot I couldn't touch the sides without burning my fingers.

That hurt, and I guess maybe I whimpered a little bit.

Sure I'm glad to get home, and I never want to leave it again.

I'll never go with anyone again unless I know who it is.

MECCAS OVERCOME LEAD TO EDGE CIRCLEVILLE OILS, 10-8

Purcell's Wildness, Passed Balls Give Restaurant Men Undisputed First Place After Oil Team Scores Five in First Inning; Barnes' Home Run, Hickey's Fielding Are Features.

The Mecca restaurant recreation ball team hopped into undisputed possession of first place in the city league, Monday, defeating the Circleville Oils, 10-8. The Meccas overcame a five run lead the Oils gathered in the first inning.

The food-enders sewed up the game in the sixth inning when with the score tied 6-6 Carl Purcell, usually reliable Oil moundsman, walked three straight men. Two of them scored on passed balls and the third came over on Jarzy Davis' single.

Joe Barnes' home run in the Oil Half of the ninth with Ray Smith on base was to no avail as far as the final outcome was concerned.

HEGELE ON MOUND

Bill Hegele, who pitched Sunday afternoon for the Purina Chows, was on the mound for the Meccas and was greeted with three hits after he had walked one and retired two in the first frame. The Mecca came back with three in the second. One run by the Oils in their half of the second made the score 6-3 but the Meccas tied it up in the fourth with three counters. Their three in the sixth and one for good measure in the seventh clinched the contest.

The Meccas have now won both their encounters while the Oils have split in two games.

Purcell gave six bases on balls Monday evening, the wet ball having something to do with his benders, while Hegele was guilty of only two free tickets to first.

Kline and J. Davis each had three bingles for the winners while R. Smith and Barnes each had three for the losers.

Charlie Scott umpired behind the plate and Russ Miller and Cy Baucher on the bases.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

The Columbus ball club is just about set with one pitcher expected to be added to the team during the day—Columbus papers say it will be Jim Lindsey who is now with the Cincinnati ball club. The majors must slash their rosters to 25 men before midnight.

Columbus has a number of good men out on 24-hour option since they can receive no more aid from the parent St. Louis club after midnight. * * * Tom Angley, and Terry Moore are two of these—As the team now stands it has Gooch and O'Dea behind the plate; Heath, Wilson, Myers, Riggs, Delker, who is ill, and Martin, infielders: Blades, Anderson, Bene Moore and Culp, outfielders: Teachout, Helse, Greer, Sims, Spencer, Cross and Klinger, pitchers * * * The new pitcher, who ever he is, will put the club roster at 20, the legal number.

The work of Lefty Grove, purchased by Boston from Philadelphia, elated his owners, Monday, when he held Chicago to one run in six innings after taking up a lost cause. * * * The White Sox won behind Earnshaw's 4-hit pitching because Henry Johnson was drubbed for eight runs in the first three sessions. * * * Groves' mighty 'souper' has been sore all year and his services have amounted to nothing but he seems about ready to go. * * * With Boston presenting a pretty good ball club with him out of the lineup, it should be a real tough outfit with him in it.

kidnapers was focused on the mid-west because of the anonymous letter that saved the child's life.

Opinion differed widely among the officers, although many held that at least several of the members of the abduction gang were still in Arizona.

The horror of the desert grave was in striking contrast to the clean bed in which June slept, clasping her teddy bear and other dolls in her arms.

"I want my mamma," June told County Attorney Houston when he showed into the coffin.

He had stumbled across the hiding spot alone, his deputy, Carlos Robles, an uncle of the little girl, being some distance away scouring another spot.

"I had every reason to believe she was dead," said Houston afterward.

"I was about to leave to call the undertaker when I heard her voice.

"It was a thrill I will remember always."

PRISONER 19 DAYS

Houston found a key near the coffin and unlocked the padlock holding June's ankle. She wobbled about at first, unable to stand, having been held a prisoner during the 19 days in the same, confined place.

"How's Barney," said June at once. "Why isn't he here?"

She referred to her playmate cousin, Barney Kengia, who was with her when a car drove up in front of her school and a kidnaper enticed her inside.

She would not go home, however, until she had found her school report card.

"I want to show it to my mamma," she exclaimed.

"I got it the day the bad man got me, but I've held on to it ever since, so I could show mamma when I got back."

"How did the man get you inside the car?" she was asked.

"Well, he told me my daddy had sent for me and was to take me home. I didn't know he was a kidnaper man. I only saw the man twice since then."

"He came at night with another man to bring me food. I don't know much what he looked like. They used a flashlight, and when he got me at school he was wearing big goggles."

CHICAGO, May 15.—Federal authorities and police conducted a systematic search here today for the kidnapers of June Robles, 6-year-old schoolgirl found chained in a desert pit near Tucson, Ariz.

The hunt was launched here after Gov. B. B. Moore of Arizona received an airmail letter, bearing a Chicago postmark, which told authorities where to find the abducted child.

Police and federal officials expressed a belief that Chicago kidnapers were responsible for the crime. Postal authorities were making strenuous efforts to trace the sender of the letter.

Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the United States department of justice division of investigation here, ordered the bulk of his force to cooperate in the search. Purvis declared:

"The government will use every resource at its command to run down the kidnapers."

WHAT the STARSSAY

WEEK OF MAY 13, 1934

By R. FREDRIC KANE

The Moon will be in Cancer a good planting sign on next Thursday and Friday so that would be the ideal time for your planting. Pull out any weeds which may have started, next Saturday and see if they don't stay out of your garden.

The writing of letters and the signing of important papers had better be left undone until after Tuesday.

Wednesday would be a good day to take that short trip you have been planning. If you want to visit with the older folks, Wednesday would be the best day of the week.

Be careful in all business affairs on Thursday morning.

Those born in the signs Leo and Cancer will find Friday to be a day when things will work out to their advantage. Be very careful if you make any short trips during the evening hours. The unexpected and aggravating things are likely to go along with you.

Saturday is likely to be one of those periods when we will all feel the depressing influence of an adverse Saturnian ray, so hold yourself in check especially in the morning hours and guard your speech. Don't resort to the usual Saturnian sarcasm.

Sunday, May 20th, some real good planetary aspects are in force so make the best of them. However, there is likely to be some bad accidents due to recklessness around three in the afternoon, so be very careful if you go out driving Sunday afternoon.

Shark Fins in Demand

California each year imports from west coast of Mexico several tons of shark fins for local consumption or shipment to the Orient, where they are regarded as a food delicacy.

DEBATE ON NEW DEAL

United States Senator L. J. Dickinson (left) of Iowa and Congressman Charles E. West of Granville, O., former college professor, traded oratorical punches in a debate on the NRA in Chicago last Friday. Congressman West assumed the affirmative side on the subject: "Will the NRA Bring Us Out of the Depression?" Senator Dickinson, who was a keynoter at the Republican convention in 1932, has long been a foe of the NRA and has debated the merits of the recovery program with Congressman West on a number of occasions throughout the country.

non-stop flight from New York to Rome.

Air officials, not alarmed that the pair had not been sighted definitely since their take-off at 7:24 a. m. E. D. T. yesterday, pointed out that the flyers were attempting a longer over-water hop than ever has been made across the Atlantic, avoiding land points at the beginning of the journey.

CAN'T SEND WORD
This left the remote chance they might be sighted by one of the several ships along the comparatively direct course they chose.

They did not report their position themselves, since their radio was for receiving only.

Lights were ordered put on to burn all night at Centocelle field, where the police were prepared to handle a large crowd of welcome. The civil airport at Littorio and the military airfield at Ciampino also were made ready.

COLUMBUS, May 15.—The Ohio liquor control department today reported a net deficit of $18,187.45 as of April 28.

The net profit for the month of April, however—the first month of operations of the state liquor stores—totaled $47,790.76.

The report on the liquor department's business record was made by Col. John A. Hughes to Governor George White.

"Considering the circumstances," Governor White said, "it is a fair report, but it is yet too early to judge."

CLEVELAND, May 15.—That section of Ohio's new liquor act which prohibits sale of liquor on an election day had its first workout today as Cleveland voters marched to the polls at a special election.

All state liquor stores in the city were closed and cocktails or other drinks containing liquor could not be purchased at hotels, clubs or restaurants. Liquor could be purchased in the suburban cafes, however.

The restrictions were in effect from midnight to midnight. It was the first election in the state since the liquor law was passed.

Bananas in yellow ripe condition are completely digested if properly masticated. Fully ripe, they are easily digested by adults and children.

J. W. Rath, chairman of the Institute of American Meat Packers, states that the packing industry paid approximately $269,000,000 for its livestock during the first quarter of 1934 as compared to $266,000,000 for the same period during 1933.

Cost of collection of the processing taxes on farm products for which production control programs are in effect is reported at less than 60 cents for each $100 collected, announces the bureau of internal revenue.

Loans in excess of one billion dollars have been granted farmers and their organizations by the Farm Credit Administration since the government agency was created last May. More than $640,000,000 of the total was disbursed by the federal land banks.

"A Bible and a Newspaper in every home"

—said Benjamin Franklin, whose death on April 17, 1790, we remember this week

IF YOU asked the founder of a great library system what reading matter you should place in your home, you might expect him to hand you a sizable list of books.

But old Ben Franklin, father of the free library system of our country, being a man to put first things first, might have looked over the top of his glasses at you, and repeated "a Bible and a newspaper in every home."

Franklin himself was Printer and Publisher . . . and an advertising writer. He recognized, as you do, that good advertising is NEWS. Back in 1780, when a ship came to port with a consignment of India shawls and some merchant announced this in the newspaper, you may imagine that that item meant more to the ladies of the day than the usual chronicle of somebody's cow "lost, strayed or stolen."

An editor gathers up the news from all corners of the globe, just as a merchant gathers up his stock of goods. Then the story of both is carried in the newspaper. Both mean a great deal to every reader.

Insull To Plead Illegal Arrest

CHICAGO, May 15.—Samuel Insull's move for vindication was postponed a week today.

While the former utilities czar remained in seclusion at St. Luke's hospital, Floyd E. Thompson, Insull's lawyer, appeared in the court of Judge Philip I. Sullivan to challenge the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that Insull had been illegally returned from Turkey to face trial.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green was granted a week's continuance on the hearing when he told Judge Sullivan that it would be necessary for him to get a number of documents relating to the case from the state department at Washington.

CHICAGO, May 15.—As the opening move in his fight for vindication and liberty Samuel Insull was ready today to challenge the jurisdiction of federal court to try him on charges resulting from the collapse of his once mighty utilities empire.

At a hearing before Federal Judge Philip Sullivan today Insull will enter a plea that he was illegally extradited from Turkey after nearly two years of self-imposed exile—that he was, in effect, "shanghaied."

The former utilities magnate must answer in federal court to charges of using the mails to defraud investors and violation of the national bankruptcy act.

WEEK DELAY ASKED
Before Insull's case was called

United States Attorney Dwight H. Green said he will ask for a week's continuance to enable his staff to get all the information here from Washington.

Another phase of Insull's fight for vindication will begin tomorrow with his arraignment before Judge James Fardy on the state charge of embezzlement.

Martin Insull, his brother, will attempt to evade trial on the state indictment on the plea that the grand jury which returned true bills against himself and Samuel was improperly impaneled.

It will be the government's contention in the case of Samuel that no treaty rights were involved when the Turkish government sent police to take the fugitive from the steamer Maiotis in Istanbul Harbor.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 4 held its regular meeting in the basement of the Presbyterian church, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

We sang a number of songs and played games. We went to patrol corners, then we closed with taps and the radio handclasp.

The troop then had an informal tea in honor of their mothers. Nearly all the girls' mothers were present. We served sandwiches, cookies and tea. The stage was decorated with dogwood. We also had iris, snowballs, bleeding heart and violets.

Betty May played a violin solo accompanied by her sister. Some of the girls demonstrated first aid. Five of our members dramatized an English Sea ballad which was enjoyed by the mothers.

Troop scribe, Marcellette Kerr

Girl Scout troop No. 3 enjoyed a picnic Friday afternoon. We hiked to Zwicker's woods. The meeting opened with the roll call, thirty members responding.

After a short business session we sang songs and played games. We are very proud of our troop flag, purchased for us by the local American Legion Auxiliary, our sponsor.

Betty Bach's patrol had a candy sale clearing 82c. We then had our supper and closed our meeting with the radio handclasp and song.

Assistant scribe,

Price decline in terms of gold appears to be checked, but no turn has yet occurred in this, the fifth year of the depression, in the opinion of Professors George Warren and F. A. Pearson of Cornell University.

GETTLES STORY

we were in the vicinity of Riverside. When we finally stopped the men lifted me out of the car and shoved me up the steps of a house. They made me lie down on the bed.

They took off the adhesive tape which was over my eyes and put on another blindfold, or mask. This they changed twice a day.

Mostly they left me alone. They never conversed in my presence and when they talked in the other room it was in whispers. I couldn't tell day from night, except that at sometimes it seemed hotter than others and I assumed that was the day.

I wasn't hungry but they told me I could have sandwiches whenever I wanted anything to eat.

NO CHANCE TO FLEE
I thought of escape but I had no chance. My captors never left me alone and although my hands were untied they didn't permit me to fumble with the ropes on my feet or with the blindfold.

From time to time I was told that ransom negotiations were being made but I was kept in the dark regarding most of the details. Last night, I didn't know what night it was, one of the men whispered to me "Well old boy, we're getting ready to take you home. Everything is going to be okay."

Hours later it seemed they told me the scheme had blown up and that I would have to wait until they could arrange another plan.

When the officers burst into the house I didn't know what was happening. When the blindfold was taken from me I guess I was in a daze. My eyes hurt terribly when I was taken into the light. My leg doesn't hurt me much now but the pain was intense for the first two days.

The men who kidnaped me, while not brutal or mean were not exactly communicative or friendly. I didn't play poker with them as some eastern kidnap victims reported they did. I didn't have the chance.

There was no picnic though and when I was released and told my wife and children were all right it seemed that the whole world had been lifted off my shoulders. I might add that it was rather pleasant to be released from my bonds. I am told that June Robles was freed at almost the same time I was. Her experience must have been terrible. I only hope that it doesn't shadow her entire life.

As for myself a few days rest and I think I'll be able to carry on as before.

Yytton Commission which investigated the Manchurian dispute, unquestionably knows the Far East better than any other high-ranking officer.

McCoy also served several years as aide to the late General Leonard Wood in the Philippines; supervised Nicaragua's elections in 1928; and headed the Chaco Peace Commission in the year following.

There are other candidates on the list of course, and it is no certainty that McCoy will get the job. But so important does Roosevelt consider the future in the Orient, that he seems to be leaning toward McCoy to replace the benighted Bonus Army Evacuator, General Douglas MacArthur.

Uncle Sam's New Navy "Airfield" on Trial

An excellent aerial view of the U. S. S. Ranger, the Navy's new plane carrier, as she steams by Old Point Comfort, Va., en route to her first "shakedown" test before being commissioned. The Ranger carries 72 planes, 1,100 men, has a displacement of 13,500 tons and a speed of 29½ knots. She was built at a cost of $21,000,000. Inset, Captain Arthur Leroy Bristol, of Charleston, S. C., skipper of the new craft.

Hoover-hating Charley Hilles and Connecticut's water power mogul, Henry Rorabach. Between them they control the largest block of votes. Working in alliance, they were responsible for forcing the Sanders resignation.

Jim is in for a bitter disappointment. When the time comes the Hilltoppish votes are not going to him, or any of the other scheming aspirants above mentioned.

The two bosses have other plans. They are looking for more palatable titbits.

The type of chairman they have in mind is a personable, well-headed Mid-westerner, with an aura of "liberalism," just enough to take him out of the avowed Tory class. Wisconsin's Walter J. Kohler, former Governor, sportsman and bathtub manufacturer, fits this picture perfectly. He has plenty of money—a desperately needed ingredient—is tepidly progressive and politically ambitious.

The only trouble is in persuading him to take the job. With all his political ambitions, Kohler is fully aware that the Chairmanship is going to be no bed of roses, will cost him plenty, and that the possibilities of dividends are extremely uncertain.

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED BY PRESBYTERIAN BIBLE CLASS

In commemoration of Mothers' Day members of the Westminster Bible class of the Presbyterian church entertained their mothers and members of the Ladies' Bible class to a sumptuous banquet, Monday evening, in the social room of the church, which was gorgeously decorated in spring flowers. The spacious room was banked with huge baskets of dogwood blossoms, snowballs, iris and spirea.

The handsomely appointed tables were graced with yellow candles in crystal holders and had centerpiece of sweetpeas and roses.

Mrs. E. S. Toensmeier, teacher of the class, offered prayer before the guests were seated. At the close of the dinner Mrs. B. T. Hedges, who was chairman of the program committee, acted as toastmaster, and cleverly introduced each number on the pro-Gram.

Miss Florence Dunton, president of the class, graciously greeted the mothers and guests. A response was given by Mrs. Toensmeier, who praised with sincerity the work of the daughters, especially the many gifted members of the Westminster Bible class.

The ensuing number was a group of readings by a member of the class, Mrs. Blanche Mutschman, a pupil of the Thompson School of Expression of Columbus. She gave two humorous selections entitled "Deceitful Man" and "Between Two Loves" in Italian-American dialect.

Mrs. Hedges next introduced the guest singer of the evening, Marion Sensenbrenner, who sang, "Mother of Pearl" and "This Little Piggy Went to Market."

At this juncture, a pantomime dramatization of "Mother and the Family," was presented. Mrs. George McDowell, a former teacher of dramatics, read the play, while the following portrayed the characters: Mrs. Blanche Mutschman, the mother; little Virginia McDowell, and Donna Jeanne Howell, the children.

The concluding number was a second delightful group of vocal solos by Mr. Sensenbrenner, who exhibited great talent and a versatile range of tone. He first sang "In an Old Fashioned Town" and also the beautiful sacred number "Others." The latter was the song adopted by the Ladies' Bible class as a motto.

His final number, the ever pleasing selection "Rock-a-bye My Baby With a Dixie Melody" was heartily received. Miss Abbe Mills Clarke accompanied Mr. Sensenbrenner.

At the close of the program Miss Bernadine Lutz presented each mother and guest with a Pernet rose, which had been given to the mothers of the church by Fred Clark.

Mrs. Estella Morris extended thanks in behalf of the mothers and guests for the delightful evening.

Mrs. E. E. Porter efficiently served as chairman of the successful event and was assisted by Miss Bernadine Lutz, Mrs. G. I. Nickerson, Mrs. H. Stanley Lewis and Miss Florence Dunton.

Prizes, as last year, will be given to the boy or girl selling the most poppies.

After the meeting the lunch committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Goff, served a delicious lunch. Cards were enjoyed the remainder of the evening.

The next meeting will be a covered-dish dinner at which the girl scouts of American Legion Auxiliary troop No. 3 will be guests.

VON BORA HAS ANNUAL MOTHERS' DAY BANQUET

A profusion of spring flowers, artistically arranged in large baskets, beautifully decorated the dining room of the Lutheran Parish house, Monday evening, for the annual Von Bora society Mothers' Day banquet, which was enjoyed by one hundred and four members, mothers and guests.

An orchid and white color scheme was carried out in the room decorations and table appointments. Orchid candles in crystal holders lighted the tables and bowls of pretty flowers were centerpiece. The attractive favors at each cover, made by Miss Marie Hamilton, teacher of special education in the local schools, and her pupils, were crepe paper corsages in orchid and white.

Mrs. Carl Leist was chairman of the decorating committee and Mrs. J. Wallace Crist was in charge of the delicious dinner served at 7 o'clock.

After the dinner Mrs. James Stout, president of the society, introduced participants on the program. Mrs. Fred Brown welcomed the mothers and guests.

Response was given by Mrs. Lewis Hohenstein.

This was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Carl Leist. She sang "The Fountain Court" and was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Merrill of Columbus.

A humorous reading was cleverly given by Mrs. Floyd Weller after which a group comprised of Mrs. George L. Troutman, Mrs. James Carpenter, Mrs. John Walters, Mrs. Leist and Miss Helen Crist accompanied by Mrs. Karl Herrmann, sang "My Task" and "Mother."

Madame Senora was then presented in the person of Mrs. William Fitzpatrick, who gave character readings, which afforded much merriment.

Little Phyllis Weller sang two numbers, "Three Little Pigs" and "I Don't Want to go to Bed." She was accompanied by her mother Mrs. Floyd Weller.

A splendid paper was read by Mrs. Mary Bower on "Mothers Influence," and a pantomime "Mother" was presented by Miss Wilmine Haacker, Miss Viona Smith, Mrs. Clarence Wolf, Miss Helen Crist, Miss Mary Weller and Miss Lucile Crist.

ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATORS

1934 G-E models are the finest refrigerators General Electric ever built. Come in and see them. You will find brilliant beauty, new refinements and distinguished styling that will add a new modern note to your kitchen.

The General Electric Monitor Top mechanism quickly won universal recognition as the standard of excellence for household refrigeration. Sealed-in-steel, it requires no attention, not even oiling. Introduced in 1927, its record is without a parallel for dependable performance at low cost year after year. First electric refrigerator to carry a 2 year guarantee, first with a 3 year guarantee, and first with a 4 year service plan, it now carries 5 years protection for only $1 a year: the standard 1 year warranty plus 4 more years on its famous sealed-in-steel mechanism. The new G-E flat-top created a style sensation in refrigerators. Beautiful in its modern simplicity of design it is undoubtedly most attractive of all refrigerators selling at popular prices. It carries the standard 1 year warranty. There are only two types of electric refrigerators... Monitor Top and flat-top. You can see them both here... and take your choice. ## Borah Prefaces Speech

His Tour by Reading

Fascist New Deal Knocks

WASHINGTON — The shaggy-haired Senator from Idaho, William Edgar Borah, makes it a habit to practice his speeches aloud before delivery. For hours he paces the floor droning to himself.

The other day a visitor opened the door of Borah's office, found him in the not unusual preoccupation of rehearsing a speech. But before Borah on the desk was a copy of "The American Mercury" from which the Senator had been reading.

Noting his visitor's curious gaze, Borah quickly turned the magazine upside down, but not before the visitor noted the article.

It was: "The Planless Roosevelt Revolution," by Lawrence Dennis, propagandist for American fascism. In the article are such statements as:

"Roosevelt has shown himself a master showman, but not a master builder. Borrowing, currency devaluation and the dolo do not constitute a social system. A social revolution cannot be conducted by a genial personality and caresses, he goes on undoing the American system. There is a certain piquancy to the idea of a revolution being conducted by people who don't know what they are doing, but the result is likely to be a mess."

NOTE—As soon as Congress is over, Borah plans a nation-wide speaking tour to tell the people what he thinks of the New Deal.

Slipping

Sartorially, Senator James Hamilton Lewis may still be the sparkling star of old. But from the point of fact he is slipping.

At Chevy Chase Club, the Davis Cup Matches were under way. In a mustard-colored cutaway coat suit, the famous Illinois Senator circled through the crowd, bowing low to everyone. Finally, he spied a prominent Washington manufacturer with a lovely young lady on his arm.

Jim Ham effused. Quoth he: "My good fellow, it has been years since I've seen you. How you young people do grow up! It's almost unbelievable that you're married."

"I've been married a long, long time," replied the gentleman. With great flourish, the Illinoisan continued. "With a wife so very young, you couldn't have been married so very long ago."

"This isn't my wife, Senator. It's my daughter."

Luke Warm

The men who really run Russia are disappointed in the work of Billy "Bald-headed" Bullitt, first American Ambassador ever to be sent to a Soviet Government.

Bullitt is intelligent, sympathetic, works hard and on the whole gets along with the Russians. But he is not the big time stuff they had hoped for. He cannot help them improve business relations with the United States. And he does not—in their opinion—carry much weight with the Administration back home.

The Kremlin may have preferred a big, booming-voiced, blatant, but really important American business man.

RAINFALL AIDS PARCHED CROP; PREDICT MORE

Only .15 Inches Falls Monday and Tuesday But It Brings Relief

WORTH THOUSANDS

Corn Planting at Climax in Pickaway-co

Rainfall measuring only .15 inches, but worth thousands of dollars to farmers, brought slight relief to Pickaway-cos drought-stricken crops Monday and early Tuesday.

There was more rain in some sections of the county than in others but all communities reported enough rain to "do some good."

Weather reports today indicated continued showers and cooler weather for Wednesday.

Sprouting corn was greatly aided while farmers working sod-ground into seedbeds were also benefited. Wheat and pasture lands are naturally aided by the rainfall.

The rain this week added to more than a half inch last Thursday gives the county more rain than a number of other southern Ohio counties.

Much more rain is needed, according to County Agent Guy Dowdy, if a normal wheat crop is to be gained this fall. Pasture, too, is far shorter than in many years for the spring season.

Most of the county's corn planting is expected to be completed within the next week or 10 days.

NINE STORES ON PROBATION

Communities Given Opportunity "To Retain Trial" With 60-Day Trial.

COLUMBUS, May 15.—Nine of the 100 Ohio liquor department stores today were operating on "probation" following their failure to maintain their quotas of sales. The stores which were placed under probation were those located at Mt. Gilead, London, New Lexington, Wapakoneta, Ottawa, Paulding, Waverly, Logan and Napoleon. Their period of "probation" will extend for 60 days "to give the communities in which the stores are situated an opportunity to retain them," according to Col. John A. Hughes, state liquor director.

Hughes said that in an effort to aid the stores they would be permitted to sell at wholesale as well as retail. Average daily sales of $200 are necessary for each state liquor store to keep "out of the red."

An announcement of the plan to place the nine liquor stores on "probation" was made simultaneously with the declaration of Matt Hinkel, technical adviser to the state liquor department, that "it appears that we are not going to sell half as much liquor as I had estimated." Hinkel made his statement (Continued on Page Two)

JURY GRANTS $1,560 SUM

Mrs. Boor Is Victor in Action For Money Against Francis Hoover.

A jury in common pleas court voted a unanimous verdict for the plaintiff, Tuesday, in the suit of Mrs. Alma H. Boor, Ashville, against Francis W. "Cappy" Hoover, a patient in the Athens state hospital. The jurors allowed Mrs. Boor $1,560 as asked in her petition.

The money was determined a fair amount for providing for Mr. Hoover.

In an answer denying the claim of Mrs. Boor, Mr. Hoover, her uncle, declared he had given her over $1,700 for which he still held a note, but on the witness stand he confessed he had given her the sum as a gift and not a loan.

Harry Margulis was Mrs. Boor's attorney while William D. Radcliff acted as Hoover's guardian ad litem.

Judge J. W. Adkins heard the case with W. M. Reid, E. Unionist, as the jury's foreman.

The next action in common pleas court is May 23 when the re-trial of the suit of Ruth W. Marshall appealing from a decision of the industrial commission is scheduled. A previous trial here resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

Mrs. Marshall seeks compensation for her husband's death on the Scioto Trail, north of South Bloomfield.

"ROBBERS FINED" FOR INTOXICATION

Men Walk Into Gem Restaurant and Demand $70; Caught By Police.

Believed by some to have attempted robbery of Noah Myers in his E. Main-st restaurant, Monday evening, M. C. Geddis, of Sun-Solito, and B. B. Triplett, of Sun-Solito, were each fined $10 and cost of $8.70 by Mayor Cady Tuesday, for intoxication and disorderly conduct.

The men walked into Myers' restaurant at 9:30 p. m. Monday and, holding their hands in their pockets as though they carried revolvers, they demanded $70 of the proprietor. Myers called police and the pair fled.

Geddis was arrested in another E. Main-st restaurant a half hour later by Officers Shasten and Radcliff. Triplett was found in a restaurant at Washington and Franklin-sts at 11 o'clock by Officer Fitzpatrick.

Both spent the night in the city jail and were given hearings before Mayor Cady Tuesday when they denied trying to rob Myers. The restaurant declined to file charges against them.

One of the men paid $9 of the fine, the other paid nothing but Mayor Cady held all their luggage as bond until the fines and costs are paid. The men said they were going to Gallipolis to work on an Ohio river lock.

KEPT ON BED

It was awfully hot. I was never allowed to get off the bed except when they led me to the bathroom. My leg pained me considerably and one of the men rubbed it with alcohol.

The leg was hurt when I fell from the wall and at first I thought it was broken as it was doubled under me. One of the men told me not to be so soft and that I wouldn't be hurt if I didn't make an outcry.

We rode about 45 minutes and I don't know why but I thought

ITALIANS PREPARE

Due to Hit Irish Coast Before Noon Today

By International News Service More than 26 hours after they took off from Floyd Bennett field, New York, on a non-stop flight to Rome, no definite word had been heard today concerning the progress of George R. Pond and Cesare Sabelli.

Although due near the coast of Ireland about 10 a. m. E. D. T. they had not been sighted at that hour.

No steamships along the route had reported sighting their Bellanca plane.

FDR REQUESTS RELIEF MONEY

Sum Would Run Country Until January; 10 Million For Crime War.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to appropriate $1,322,000,000 for "Neal Deal" emergency and relief running expenses through next January.

At the same time, the president asked broad powers to use much of the money as he sees fit. As he put it, no one can tell what emergencies may arise, and he wants to be able to meet them as they come.

Ten million dollars of the money asked today will go to make war on the bootlegger. The president is determined to exterminate this vicious parasite. He plans a determined drive of eradication in coming months.

The sum asked of Congress today rounded off the total for emergency and relief which the president fixed as this year's limit in his budget message to Congress Jan. 3.—$3,165,000,000. He believes the $1,322,000,000 will carry the New Deal through until Congress reconvenes next January.

BANK ROBBERS GET 20 YEARS

Youths Captured After Investigation Here Plead Guilty In Fayette-co.

Leland McDaniel, 21, and Howard Douglass, 23, of Columbus, were sentenced to 20 years each in the Ohio penitentiary when they pleaded guilty to robbing the Good Hope bank. Their hearings were conducted before Judge H. M. Rankin who heard lengthy pleas for leniency. A number of character witnesses were also paraded before the court.

McDaniel and Douglass were arrested in Columbus as a result of clues obtained in Ashville by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and his force.

Both youths dressed neatly, took the witness stand to tell their stories of the robbery before sentence was passed. Both related their early history and told the court that they had never been arrested before.

They admitted they had planned the Good Hope robbery several weeks before they had perpetrated it. They were both under the influence of liquor when they did the job, they told Judge Rankin.

McDaniel and Douglass escaped after the Fayette-co holdup by driving through New Holland and Williamsport, turning off Route 22 on Route 104 then cutting from that highway to South Bloomfield and into Ashville where they left clues which led to their arrest.

More than $500 of the $567 loot taken from the bank was recovered.

The Fayette-co courtroom was crowded with friends and relatives of both youths.

Letter Mailed in Chicago Leads to Robles Girl's Recovery

SUFFERED IN DESERT

Search for Cruel Abductors Spreads East

TUCSON, Ariz., May 15.—Rescued from the most terrible fate that can befall mankind—burial alive in a sun-baked desert—little June Robles slept today in her own bed for the first time in 19 days, her dolls about her, and watched over by loving parents and relatives.

Home again without the payment of the $15,000 ransom to the kidnapers who hid her in the most desolate hiding place for a victim ever devised, hope was held that the remarkable recuperative powers of a healthy child would save the six-year-old victim from permanent harm.

SEARCH SPREADS

And while the child slept fitfully, officers and World War veterans launched a great manhunt for her kidnapers which extended from the arid wastes of the southern Arizona desert to Chicago and other eastern cities.

June, kidnaped April 25, as she was enroute home from school, was found last night by County Attorney Clarence Houston chained in a corrugated iron coffin sunk into the baked caliche soil, and at the base of a towering giant Saguaro cactus nine miles east of here, her leg chained to a four foot iron stake, which had been drilled along side the box.

The living grave was two feet deep, eight feet long and two feet wide. Over the top was a tin cover with holes punched to let in air. The box was a virtual stench-hole.

"If you people could have gotten a whiff of that stench in the grave you would feel that the fires of Hell are far too good for those kidnapers," said Houston.

Only two or three times, and then at night, during those long, silent 19 days did the kidnapers of June Robles come to her and give her food. For at least the last five days she had been left alone.

Sometimes the temperature rose to 120 up on the desert.

SCARED BY RATTLE

"I slept in the daytime because the tin on top of the roof rattled so much at night it scared me," said June.

Directions for finding the child came in a letter received from Chicago by Gov. B. B. Moore.

"We believe at least one of the kidnapers became frightened a few days ago and fled to the middle-west," Chief of Police Gus Wollard said.

"Since the handwriting in the letter was the same as in the notes received from the abductors earlier, we felt confident that the 'brains' of the gang is hiding out in some large city, perhaps in Chicago."

Rumors were current that a suspect was being held, but officials refused to confirm them.

Crowds gathered on the streets all night long, waiting word from the two sheriff's posses which left to comb the mesquite ranges east of the city, and renewed the talk of "lynching parties."

Threats were heard of following the custom of Tombstone, Ariz., in the '30's in letting kidnapers "stretch hemp from some good oak tree."

Possible Hanging Faces Three Men Who Confess Holding Gettle

RICH MAN FATIGUED

Vague Clues Lead to Capture of Yeggs

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—With William F. Gettle, millionaire financier safely back in his home and the $60,000 ransom demanded for his release reposing unpaid in a city vault, the state moved today to exact the death penalty from his kidnapers.

A sudden raid on a suburban house at La Crescenta brought liberty to the wealthy former chain store executive, and a smashing roundup brought into custody the asserted gang of bootleggers and hi-jackers responsible for his kidnapping.

Within three hours after their arrest while Gettle was holding a joyful reunion with his wife and four children, officials announced confessions had been obtained from three asserted ringleaders of the gang.

They were Jimmie Kirk, Larry Kerrigan and Roy Williams.

ALL THREE CONFESS

Kirk and Williams, according to the former's confession made the "snatch," police said, and Kerrigan was the guard over the victim at the La Crescenta house.

Two women were also held, Loretta Wood and Joan Burke, asserted associates of the gang.

Throughout the night police sought other known associates of the men under arrest, attempting to allow no one who had any knowledge of his kidnapping to escape.

Questioning of the three asserted ringleaders also continued continuously throughout the night.

Police centered their questioning on determining what acts of violence were committed against the abducted millionaire for kidnapping accompanied with any act of violence is punishable with death under California's "Lindbergh law."

"We will ask the death penalty," Deputy District Attorney Percy Hammond who will file complaints against Kirk, Williams and Kerrigan, announced at the conclusion of the preliminary interrogation.

"They will be charged with kidnapping in which the victim was injured."

DOUBTS INJURY

However District Attorney Burton Fitts pointed out that in order to secure the death penalty it would be necessary to prove that physical harm had been done to Gettle, and that although he had not made a thorough study of the case he doubted if this could be done.

However, Fitts asserted that kidnapping for robbery carries the death penalty in California.

Detective work of almost fictional character brought about the release of Gettle who had been "snatched last Wednesday midnight from his palatial country home at Arcadia at the conclusion of a gay party which had dedicated a new swimming pool.

A glimpsed automobile license, a card bearing a real estate dealer's name in La Crescenta and a chance remark overheard weeks ago warned the sheriff's posse that officers on a manhunt which released the bound and blindfolded captive and brought the three men and two women into custody.

Rescued Child's Story

EDITORS NOTE—In simple, childish words, June Robles, six-year-old victim, rescued in the desert, told the story of her 19 days of imprisonment.

By JUNE ROBLES (Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz., May 15.—I was with Barney (Barney Kengla, her six-year-old cousin) and we were walking along the street when a tall, dark man came up to me and said:

"Your father is out fixing radios and wants to see you—come with me."

So I got into the car and he drove me for a pretty long ways. I don't know how far but I guess it was nearly a hundred blocks, and it was getting dark, and we had driven along the sand for quite a ways.

Then the automobile stopped and he said:

"Get out, we aren't going to hurt you."

And then another man came up.

I couldn't see him but he said something to the man who brought me away from town.

I don't remember what happened next, only I was in a big box and it was awfully hot.

I couldn't see very well, even in the day time, but I found something to eat.

I ate some figs, dates, graham crackers, oranges, and bread, and then there was some water, too, but it didn't taste good. It didn't taste like water, but like soap.

I didn't cry any—that is not true.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

The Columbus ball club is just about set with one pitcher expected to be added to the team during the day—Columbus papers say it will be Jim Lindsey who is now with the Cincinnati ball club. The majors must slash their rosters to 25 men before midnight.

Columbus has a number of good men out on 24-hour option since they can receive no more aid from the parent St. Louis club after midnight. * * * Tom Angley, and Terry Moore are two of these. As the team now stands it has Gooch and O'Dea behind the plate; Heath, Wilson, Myers, Riggs, Delker, who is ill, and Martin, infielders; Blades, Anderson, Bene Moore and Cullop, outfielders; Teachout, Heise, Greer, Sims, Spencer, Cross and Klinger, pitchers. * * * The new pitcher, who ever he is, will put the club roster at 20, the legal number.

The work of Lefty Grove, purchased by Boston from Philadelphia, elated his owners, Monday, when he held Chicago to one run in six innings after taking up a lost cause. * * * The White Sox won behind Earnshaw's 4-hit pitching because Henry Johnson was drubbed for eight runs in the first three sessions. * * * Groves' mighty 'souper' has been sore all year and his services have amounted to nothing but he seems about ready to go. * * * With Boston presenting a pretty good ball club with him out of the lineup, it should be a real tough outfit with him in it.

kidnapers was focused on the mid-west because of the anonymous letter that saved the child's life. Opinion differed widely among the officers, although many held that at least several of the members of the abduction gang were still in Arizona.

The horror of the desert grave was in striking contrast to the clean bed in which June slept, clasping her teddy bear and other dolls in her arms.

"I want my mamma," June told County Attorney Houston when he showed into the coffin.

He had stumbled across the hiding spot alone, his deputy, Carlos Robles, an uncle of the little girl, being some distance away scouring another spot.

"I had every reason to believe she was dead," said Houston afterward.

"I was about to leave to call the undertaker when I heard her voice."

"It was a thrill I will remember always."

PRISONER 19 DAYS

Houston found a key near the coffin and unlocked the padlock holding June's ankle. She wobbled about at first, unable to stand, having been held a prisoner during the entire 19 days in the same, confined place.

"How's Barney?" said June at once. "Why isn't he here?"

She referred to her playmate cousin, Barney Kengla, who was with her when a car drove up in front of her school and a kidnaper entered her inside.

She would not go home, however, until she had found her school report card.

"I want to show it to my mamma," she exclaimed.

"I got it the day the bad man got me, but I've held on to it ever since, so I could show mamma when I got back."

"How did the man get you inside the car?" she asked.

"Well, he told me my daddy had sent for me and was taking me home. I didn't know he was a kidnaper man. I only saw the man twice since then."

"He came at night time, with another man to bring me food. I don't know much what he looked like. They used a flashlight, and when he got me at school he was wearing big goggles."

CHICAGO, May 15.—Federal authorities and police conducted a systematic search here today for the kidnapers of June Robles, 6-year-old schoolgirl found chained in a desert pit near Tucson, Ariz.

The hunt was launched here after Gov. B. B. Moore of Arizona received an airmail letter, bearing a Chicago postmark, which told authorities where to find the abducted child.

Police and federal officials expressed a belief that Chicago kidnapers were responsible for the crime. Postal authorities were making strenuous efforts to trace the sender of the letter.

Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the United States department of justice division of investigation here, ordered the bulk of his force to cooperate in the search. Purvis declared:

"The government will use every resource at its command to run down the kidnapers."

WHAT the STARSSAY

WEEK OF MAY 13, 1934

By R. FREDRIC KANE

The Moon will be in Cancer a good planting sign on next Thursday and Friday so that would be the ideal time for your planting. Pull out any weeds which may have started, next Saturday and see if they don't stay out of your garden.

The writing of letters and the signing of important papers had better be left undone until after Tuesday.

Wednesday would be a good day to take that short trip you have been planning. If you want to visit with the older folks, Wednesday would be the best day of the week.

Be careful in all business affairs on Thursday morning.

Those born in the signs Leo and Cancer will find Friday to be a day when things will work out to their advantage. Be very careful if you make any short trips during the evening hours. The unexpected and aggravating things are likely to go along with you.

Saturday is likely to be one of those periods when we will all feel the depressing influence of an adverse Saturnian ray, so hold yourself in check especially in the morning hours and guard your speech. Don't resort to the usual Saturnian sarcasm.

Sunday, May 20th, some real good planetary aspects are in force so make the best of them. However, there is likely to be some bad accidents due to recklessness around three in the afternoon, so be very careful if you go out driving Sunday afternoon.

Shark Fins in Demand

DEBATE ON NEW DEAL

United States Senator L. J. Dickinson (left) of Iowa and Congressman Charles E. West of Granville, O., former college professor, traded oratorical punches in a debate on the NRA in Chicago last Friday. Congressman West assumed the affirmative side on the subject: "Will the NRA Bring Us Out of the Depression?" Senator Dickinson, who was a keynoter at the Republican convention in 1932, has long been a foe of the NRA and has debated the merits of the recovery program with Congressman West on a number of occasions throughout the country.

COLUMBUS, May 15.—The Ohio liquor control department today reported a net deficit of $13,187.45 as of April 28.

The net profit for the month of April, however—the first month of operations of the state liquor stores—totaled $47,790.76.

The report on the liquor department's business record was made by Col. John A. Hughes to Governor George White.

"Considering the circumstances," Governor White said, "it is a fair report, but it is yet too early to judge."

CLEVELAND, May 15.—That section of Ohio's new liquor act which prohibits sale of liquor on an election day had its first work-out today as Cleveland voters marched to the polls at a special election.

All state liquor stores in the city were closed and cocktails or other drinks containing liquor could not be purchased at hotels, clubs or restaurants. Liquor could be purchased in the suburban cafes, however.

The restrictions were in effect from midnight to midnight. It was the first election in the state since the liquor law was passed.

Cost of collection of the processing taxes on farm products for which production control programs are in effect is reported at less than 60 cents for each $100 collected, announces the bureau of internal revenue.

Loans in excess of one billion dollars have been granted farmers and their organizations by the Farm Credit Administration since the government agency was created last May. More than $640,000,000 of the total was disbursed by the federal land banks.

"A Bible and a Newspaper in every home"

—said Benjamin Franklin, whose death on April 17, 1790, we remember this week

IF YOU asked the founder of a great library system what reading matter you should place in your home, you might expect him to hand you a sizable list of books.

But old Ben Franklin, father of the free library system of our country, being a man to put first things first, might have looked over the top of his glasses at you, and repeated "a Bible and a newspaper in every home."

Franklin himself was Printer and Publisher . . . and an advertising writer. He recognized, as you do, that good advertising is NEWS. Back in 1780, when a ship came to port with a consignment of India shawls and some merchant announced this in the newspaper, you may imagine that that item meant more to the ladies of the day than the usual chronicle of somebody's cow "lost, strayed or stolen."

An editor gathers up the news from all corners of the globe, just as a merchant gathers up his stock of goods. Then the story of both is carried in the newspaper. Both mean a great deal to every reader.

Insull To Plead Illegal Arrest

CHICAGO, May 15.—Samuel Insull's move for vindication and liberty was postponed a week today.

While the former utilities czar remained in seclusion at St. Luke's hospital, Floyd E. Thompson, Insull's lawyer, appeared in the court of Judge Philip I. Sullivan to challenge the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that Insull had been illegally returned from Turkey to face trial.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green was granted a week's continuance on the hearing when he told Judge Sullivan that it would be necessary for him to get a number of documents relating to the case from the state department at Washington.

CHICAGO, May 15.—As the opening move in his fight for vindication and liberty, Samuel Insull was ready today to challenge the jurisdiction of federal court to try him on charges resulting from the collapse of his once mighty utilities empire.

At a hearing before Federal Judge Philip Sullivan today Insull will enter a plea that he was illegally extradited from Turkey after nearly two years of self-imposed exile—that he was, in effect, "shanghaied."

The former utilities magnate must answer in federal court to charges of using the mails to defraud investors and violation of the national bankruptcy act.

WEEK DELAY ASKED
Before Insull's case was called

United States Attorney Dwight H. Green said he will ask for a week's continuance to enable his staff to get all the information here from Washington.

Another phase of Insull's fight for vindication will begin tomorrow with his arraignment before Judge James Fardy on the state charge of embezzlement.

Martin Insull, his brother, will attempt to evade trial on the state indictment or the plea that the grand jury which returned true bills against himself and Samuel was improperly impaneled.

It will be the government's contention in the case of Samuel that no treaty rights were involved when the Turkish government sent police to take the fugitive from the steamer Maiotis in Istanbul Harbor.

Williams was arrested there and Kerrigan who fled from the back door was picked up when he made his way back to Los Angeles where meanwhile officers had rounded up Kirk and the two women.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 4 held its regular meeting in the basement of the Presbyterian church, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

We sang a number of songs and played games. We went to patrol corners, then we closed with taps and the radio handclasp.

The troop then had an informal tea in honor of their mothers. Nearly all the girls' mothers were present. We served sandwiches, cookies and tea. The stage was decorated with dogwood. We also had iris, snowballs, bleeding heart and violets.

Betty May played a violin solo accompanied by her sister. Some of the girls demonstrated first aid. Five of our members dramatized an English Sea ballad which was enjoyed by the mothers.

Troop scribe, Marcellette Kerr

Girl Scout troop No. 3 enjoyed a picnic Friday afternoon. We hiked to Zwicker's woods. The meeting opened with the roll call, thirty members responding.

After a short business session we sang songs and played games. We are very proud of our troop flag, purchased for us by the local American Legion Auxiliary, our sponsor.

Betty Bach's patrol had a candy sale clearing 82c. We then had our supper and closed our meeting with the radio handclasp and song.

GETTLES STORY

we were in the vicinity of Riverside. When we finally stopped the men lifted me out of the car and shoved me up the steps of a house. They made me lie down on the bed.

They took off the adhesive tape which was over my eyes and put on another blindfold, or mask. This they changed twice a day.

Mostly they left me alone. They never conversed in my presence and when they talked in the other room it was in whispers. I couldn't tell day from night, except that at sometimes it seemed hotter than others and I assumed that was the day.

I wasn't hungry but they told me I could have sandwiches whenever I wanted anything to eat.

NO CHANCE TO FLEE
I thought of escape but I had no chance. My captors never left me alone and although my hands were untied they didn't permit me to fumble with the ropes on my feet or with the blindfold.

From time to time I was told that ransom negotiations were being made but I was kept in the dark regarding most of the details. Last night, I didn't know what night it was, one of the men whispered to me "Well old boy, we're getting ready to take you home. Everything is going to be okay."

Hours later it seemed they told me the scheme had blown up and that I would have to wait until they could arrange another plan.

When the officers burst into the house I didn't know what was happening. When the blindfold was taken from me I guess I was in a daze. My eyes hurt terribly when I was taken into the light. My leg doesn't hurt me much now but the pain was intense for the first two days.

The men who kidnapped me, while not brutal or mean were not exactly communicative or friendly. I didn't play poker with them as some eastern kidnaper victims reported they did. I didn't have the chance.

It was no picnic though and when I was released and told my wife and children were all right it seemed that the whole world had been lifted off my shoulders. I might add that it was rather pleasant to be released from my bonds.

I am told that June Robles was freed at almost the same time I was. Her experience must have been terrible. I only hope that it doesn't shadow her entire life.

As for myself a few days' rest and I think I'll be able to carry on as before.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Yytton Commission which investigated the Manchurian dispute, unquestionably knows the Far East better than any other high-ranking officer.

McCoy also served several years as aide to the late General Leonard Wood in the Philippines; supervised Nicaragua's elections in 1928; and headed the Chaco Peace Commission in the year following.

There are other candidates on the list of course, and it is no certainty that McCoy will get the job. But so important does Roosevelt consider the future in the Orient, that he seems to be leaning toward McCoy to replace the benighted Bonis Army Evacuator, General Douglas MacArthur.

Dark Horse

Probably none of those now angling for the Chairmanship of the Republican Committee will get the job when it meets to choose a successor to Everett Sanders on June 5.

Jim Watson, "Young Teddy" Roosevelt, Walter E. Edge, George Moser, Henry F. Fletcher, and Hanford MacNider, all have been hotly intriguing behind the scenes for the job. But it doesn't look like any have a chance.

The boys who control the votes have other plans.

Watson believes that he has the backing of New York's snave.

DARBY'S SPEAKER GAINS PROMINENCE

Prof. Cotterman One of Most Sought After on Capital's Roster.

COLUMBUS, May 15.—Prof. Homer Cotterman, A. M., assistant professor of education at Capital University, Columbus, will be the commencement speaker at the graduation exercises of Derby high school, May 17.

He has been assistant professor of education at Capital since 1929 and was instructor in education from 1927-29.

Prof. Cotterman was graduated from Ohio university in 1922 with bachelor of arts degree and received the Master of Arts degree from Ohio State university in 1926. He was a graduate student at Ohio State 1926-27 and 1932. At the present time, he is president of the Sigma chapter at Ohio State of Phi Delta Kappa, professional educational fraternity, national in scope.

Prof. Cotterman, one of the most popular members of Capital university's commencement bureau speakers, before coming to Capital, was instructor in the Perry-co schools, 1913-18 and principal of Carroll high school, Carroll, O.

Derby was over no real fundamental difference of opinion. Sinclair is no less a critic of the NRA than Darrow. But both are prima donnas. Sinclair, an aggressive individual undertook to run the board. Darrow, although over 70, insisted on being chairman in fact as well as in name. Result, a constant wrangle, with the veteran criminal lawyer finally ceding his younger competitor out of the picture.

The type of chairman they have in mind is a personable, well-heeled Mid-westerner, with an aura of "liberalism" just enough to take him out of the avowed Tory class.

Wisconsin's Walter J. Kohler, former Governor, sportsman and high-class manufacturer, fits this picture perfectly. He has plenty of money, a desperately needed ingredient—is rapidly progressive and politically ambitious.

The only trouble is in negotiating him to take the job. With all his political ambitions, Kohler is fully aware that the Chairmanship is going to be no bed of roses, will cost him plenty, and that the possibilities of dividends are extremely uncertain.

TO LOSE FAT

Miss M. Kistner of Washington, D. C., writes: "I have used Krunchin for 4 months and have not only lost 25 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't like to reduce, Krunchin is a wonderful aid to the system healthy. I have a letter should know for I've tried so many things but only Krunchin seemed to be helped. Your druggist will be satisfied after the first bottle—money back."

TO lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Krunchin, three times a day, with meals. In a glass of hot water, in the morning before breakfast—don't mix a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—get Krunchin in any drug store or by mail. If not satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED BY

PRESBYTERIAN BIBLE CLASS
In commemoration of Mothers' Day members of the Westminster Bible class of the Presbyterian church entertained their mothers and members of the Ladies' Bible class to a sumptuous banquet, Monday evening, in the social room of the church, which was gorgeously decorated in spring flowers. The spacious room was banked with huge baskets of dogwood blossoms, snowballs, iris and spirea.
The handsomely appointed tables were graced with yellow candles in crystal holders and had centerpieces of sweetpeas and roses.
Mrs. E. S. Toensmeier, teacher of the class, offered prayer before the guests were seated. At the close of the dinner Mrs. B. T. Hedges, who was chairman of the program committee, acted as toastmaster, and cleverly introduced each number on the program.

FRAM.
Miss Florence Dunton, president of the class, graciously greeted the mothers and guests. A response was given by Mrs. Toensmeier, who praised with sincerity the work of the daughters, especially the many gifted members of the Westminster Bible class.

The ensuing number was a group of readings by a member of the class, Mrs. Blanche Molschman, a pupil of the Thompson School of Expression of Columbus. She gave two humorous selections entitled "Deceitful Man" and "Between Two Loves" in Italian-American dialect.

Mrs. Hedges next introduced the guest singer of the evening, Marion Sensenbrenner, who sang, "Mother of Pearl" and "This Little Piggy Went to Market."

At this juncture, a pantomime dramatization of "Mother and the Family," was presented. Mrs. George McDowell, a former teacher of dramatics, read the play, while the following portrayed the characters, Mrs. Aletha Lucas, the mother; Mrs. Blanche Molschman, the father; little Virginia McDowell, and Donna Jeanne Howell, the children.

The concluding number was a second delightful group of vocal solos by Mr. Sensenbrenner, who exhibited great talent and a versatile range of tones. He first sang "In an Old Fashioned Town" and also the beautiful sacred number "Others." The latter was the song adopted by the Ladies' Bible class as its motto.

His final number, the ever pleasing selection "Rock-a-bye My Baby With a Dixie Melody" was heartily received. Miss Abbe Mills Clarke accompanied Mr. Sensenbrenner.

At the close of the program Miss Bernadine Lutz presented each mother and guest with a Pernet rose, which had been given to the mothers of the church by Fred Clark.

Mrs. Estella Morris extended thanks in behalf of the mothers and guests for the delightful evening.

Mrs. E. E. Porter efficiently served as chairman of the successful event and was assisted by Miss Bernadine Lutz, Mrs. G. I. Nickerson, Mrs. H. Stanley Lewis and Miss Florence Dunton.

VON BORA HAS ANNUAL MOTHERS' DAY BANQUET

A profusion of spring flowers, artistically arranged in large baskets, beautifully decorated the dining room of the Lutheran Parish house, Monday evening, for the annual Von Bora society Mothers' Day banquet, which was enjoyed by one hundred and four members, mothers and guests.

An orchid and white color scheme was carried out in the room decorations and table appointments. Orchid candles in crystal holders lighted the tables and bowls of pretty flowers were centerpieces. The attractive favors at each cover, made by Miss Marie Hamilton, teacher of special education in the local schools, and her pupils, were crepe paper corsages in orchid and white.

Mrs. Carl Leist was chairman of the decorating committee and Mrs. J. Wallace Crist was in charge of the delicious dinner served at 7 o'clock.

After the dinner Mrs. James Stout, president of the society, introduced participants on the program. Mrs. Fred Brown welcomed the mothers and guests and response was given by Mrs. Lewis Hohenstein.

This was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Carl Leist. She sang "The Fountain Court" and was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Merrill of Columbus.

A humorous reading was cleverly given by Mrs. Floyd Weller after which a group comprised of Mrs. George L. Troutman, Mrs. James Carpenter, Mrs. John Walters, Mrs. Leist and Miss Helen Crist accompanied by Mrs. Karl Herrmann, sang "My Task" and "Mother."

Madame Senora was then presented in the person of Mrs. William Fitzpatrick, who gave character readings, which afforded much merriment.
